SEA-GULL IS INDISPENSABLE TO RESIDENTS OF CAPE COD BEACH

Trope Of Birds Have Safe-Guarded Vegetable Life

Wetland, Mass. Nov. 3.—We couldn't live without them, the Cape Codders say. That is the tribute granted these creatures by their indignant and public spirit beach citizens. The sea gull, it is no less remarked, is an indispensable part of Cape Cod life. One of the Cape's most valuable birds, these scavengers prove that it is a very remarkable bird—resourceful, clever, sociable. The gull is ever credited with a sense of humor.

Their tribe has safeguarded human life for many years. They are all on the job, faithful and active as ever, keeping the waste clean they protect health, keep down disease and instigate much disinfectant for inhabiting the Cape. Their perfect works for us, said fishermen in making his beach, air far from repulsive, destructive insects. And during their work they were immensely valuable also in that they trilled and chirped and promptly retrieved the marbles and pennies of children and the contents of misadventured craft and perished upon drifting merrils.

The state, recognizing their usefulness, has established a bird preserve. It is not only useful, but it kills a fine being inspired for each bird, it is a masterpiece. The State of Massachusetts has nothing but the best of the gull. It is a masterpiece of the feathered friend.

One fascinating tale that illustrates the heroism of the gull is the bird will swoop down from the sky and catch a fish. The gull will swoop down from the sky and catch a fish. The gull will swoop down from the sky and catch a fish.

Dr. John S. Schram Honored For Thrilling

Princeton, N.J., 3.—Word of a silver medal to Dr. John S. Schram of 344 Madison Avenue, New York City, for saving Howard T. Bailey, 25-year-old swimmer, from drowning at Grand Central, N.Y., was announced by the Grand Central station today.

The citation of the award states that Dr. Schram, who is now in the city of Princeton, N.J., was called to the aid of a swimmer who was in trouble in the water. Dr. Schram, who is now in the city of Princeton, N.J., was called to the aid of a swimmer who was in trouble in the water.

Just how you prepare your home for cold weather by putting in a supply of fuel, you should prepare your body for the change of season by seeing that your nervous system is in shape. It is important to supply the various organs with needed vitality.

A trifling pressure of spine upon a nerve trunk leads to the cold. The first cold leads to the next. Avoid the start by taking such adjustments as may be needed.

My Chlorophane health method corrects diseases of the eyes, ears, nose, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and urinary organs.

COUGAR MEAT

CHINESE DELICACY

New Washington, D.C., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Recently a poultry rancher at Ferns Island discovered a large cougar who had been feeding his poultry pens. Several of the chickens were killed and the carcasses sent to the Fraser River Valley market here.

A Chinese waiter came and described the cougar as a large animal, the size of the books in the meat section, he said. "I like very good, how much?" the market clerk asked a pig. The clerk said the cougar was a very good one. He said the cougar was a very good one. He said the cougar was a very good one.

There was a time when the gull was slaughtered and its feathers used to adorn sailors' headgear. Their eyes were often eaten, and the young, called, made a palatable water dish. But the great value of the gull was gradually realized. They considered some of fish and other sea animal stricken with the head.

Georgia Peach Will Not Be In Uniform

New York, November 3.—The possibility that Ty Cobb would be seen in the uniform of the New York Giants next season appeared doubtful with the announcement of the Chicago Press that definite retirement from the national pastime would ensue further off.

Although John McGraw, manager of the Giants, and other officials of the club were out of the city at the time of the announcement, Cobb's contract with Philadelphia would not be renewed for 1928 because of his interest in the club office.

Philadelphia, November 3.—Ty Cobb will not be with the Philadelphia Athletics next year. As soon as waivers are received on him by the Athletics, the league club, he will be free to sign with any baseball club without restriction.

TREND TOWARDS AUTOMATIC HEAT
CONTROL OF CAR
Great Percentage Of Engines Trouble Due To Overheating

"The tendency in the automobile industry is decidedly in the direction of a motor car that will practically operate itself," says Asmus A. Gard, head Piston Waterford distributor. "Manufacturers have gone to eliminating the failure of expecting the motorist to remember to operate a lot of levers and regulate on his car in order to assure successful operation."

Among the most prominent of recent additions to the motor car controlling the automatic controlling device is the Piston Automatic Waterford—a device that completely does away with the dangers of failure, which automobile owners now believe for 10 to 15 per cent of all passenger motor cars.

Operation of this motor-controlling device is controlled automatically by the Piston which fits snugly to the radiator. The device leads completely to the motor which is operated automatically. The motor is so constructed that it is able to operate without the need of a driver's attention.

The shutoff then leads to open automatically, thus allowing just the right amount of cold air into the motor to keep it operating efficiently. There is nothing to get out of order day after day, and the motor is able to operate without the need of a driver's attention.

After having conducted laboratory tests at the factory, says Mr. Asmus,
"We determined the desirability of the Piston Automatic Waterford as applied to the motor car. It is the most efficient of 20 years of experience service without a single failure in operation."

Our manufacturers have found that of this protective device that works without attention or thought on the part of the driver, and that, under the most adverse conditions, will eliminate the necessity for "overheating" the motor. The device is so constructed that it is able to operate without the need of a driver's attention. It is the most efficient of 20 years of experience service without a single failure in operation.

Made To Measure Clothes
At A Real Low
Price

Remember here and with the mild weather of the past month you very probably have given much thought to the problem of this winter coat you had planned to buy.

But as the winter goes—'t will be long now—before the cold weather sets in and we can suggest a make of buying it now that is just about the greatest value for the money obtainable in the city.

There are two questions of interest to every man buying clothes. Do you want good looking? Tip-Top Tailors say from the world's leading clothiers all wool clothes from England, Scotland and Ireland.

Do you want smart? Tip-Top Tailors are in constant touch with the leading style centers of the world and interpret the latest decrees of fashion to the ladies of Belleville from coast to coast.

Do you want economy? Tip-Top Tailors offers you here now at the present season, Charles W. Dickson,

WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION
COMPLETE ANOTHER ACTIVE YEAR

present were five members of the Association, three members from the Board of Governors, Mr. Mikel, Solicitor of the Association and Mr. J. Thompson, architect. As the result of this Executive meeting the following report was presented and passed at the meeting:

And that a By-Law of the Association be prepared to give effect to recommendation.

At the first meeting of the new year on Oct. 4th the President, reported to the full Rutledge Bequest with the interest accrued thereon amounting to $46,900 was turned over to the Board of Governors on Mr. Tannahill's personal bond.

At the September meeting it was moved and seconded that the following By-Law respecting the sale of the lot and premises comprised in the Bequest of the late James Gordon be adopted:

Whereas the Women's Christian

Whereas the said order of the Supreme Court of Ontario made the 31st day of January A.D. 1916 appointed Trustee of the estate of the said, the late J. G. Gordon under said Will, and

Whereas, it has been represented to the Women's Christian Association of Belleville that the Sterling Trust Corporation has received an offer of twenty-four thousand dollars for the premises, and that the said price is a reasonable price for the said premises, and that it is to the best advantage of all beneficiaries interested under said will to said lands and premises that the same should be accepted and

Since the W.C.A. is a denominational and a civic association we feel that every organization in the city should send at least one representative to the meetings, in order all may become cognizant of our work. We ask the interest, cooperation, active assistance and prayers of all.

JAIL AND MAGDELENE WORK
 Belleville, Nov. 21, 1927.
 Adam President and Ladies of the Women's Christian Association,
 I beg to present my annual report in connection with the above mentioned work.
 Ten women and girls have been committed during the past year. Three are from the City and seven from the county. The chief cause of commitment was through Immorality and Liquor-use. Three women were committed to the er. Toronto, for two years less one day. One girl was returned to Alexandria. School. The rest served short terms in the County Jail.

Though one does not always see the results one would wish, yet the smallest welcome makes one feel that one appreciates the kindness shown and is grateful to them, and one realizes that kind words and kind actions will take a place in the life of the wayward one.

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. T. D. Ruston.

Indigent Committee.

Madame President, Officers and members of the Women's Christian Assoc.

tion of the city of Belleville;

I beg to present the report of the Intelligent Committee of your Association from October 1926 to October 1927.

During the past year the work has been carried on as formerly, by the Committee, which for the benefit of those who do not know, consists of a chairman who receives reports and personally investigates many cases.

I have a card convener for each of the several wards of the city and visitors who assist the conveners of the larger ward.

A meeting of this committee is held each month, a few days previous to the regular meeting of the Association.

The work of the past year, has been much the same as the preceding one. During the winter season it was particularly heavy, as the unemployment situation was acute, there being a demand for casual laborer, and during the previous summer employment was not plentiful, consequently when the cold weather arrived many families were totally unprepared for the very trying season before them.

In January last, the City Council

100 th. Anniversary Services - The Presbyterian Church - St. Andrews Belleville

SUNDAY NOV. 13th., 1927.

THE REV. DR. CHARLES STEWART, Minister of the North Presbyterian Church, Buffalo, N. Y., will preach at both Services.

The Rev. Mrs. Stewart, of the general Ministerial Association, will occupy a very high position among the Clergy of that Country. He is sought at every opportunity by Canadian cities to preach at Special Services and St. Andrews are fortunate in securing him at this time.

His sermons are always an inspiration to those who have the good fortune of hearing them, and the altars of Belleville should avail themselves of this opportunity.

The Minister Session and Managers extend a cordial invitation to every citizen to attend St. Andrews' next Sunday and trust that their invitation will be accepted by a large congregation at both services.

SPECIAL MUSIC - Solists: MRS. W. H. GILL, of Trenton. MR. HAROLD HOWARD, of Belleville. M. W. NORRIS, of Belleville.

Maam Mary had Phemie Martin, N.C.I., spent the week-end at the home of the girls, Mrs. M. A. W. McNeil.

Mrs. P. Crispin spent a few days visiting her son, Mr. M. Crispin, Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Crispin attended the funeral of the late Mrs. J. A. McNeil, Kingston, on Thursday last.

Mrs. McNeil was almost a new resident of Silksville, but for the past few years had lived in Kingston, Ont. She was a very dear friend to the bereaved family and her husband, Mr. J. A. McNeil, was a very successful business man.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McNeil, of Kingston, had two daughters, Mrs. Chas. Cunningham, Kingston, and Mrs. D. J. McNeil, Toronto.

Another and death occurred on Saturday evening, October 20, when Mrs. W. H. Thoug passed away very suddenly while visiting her son, Mr. W. H. Thoug, Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Thoug had been married for many years and had several children. She was a very kind and generous woman and was much loved by all who knew her.

Funeral services were held on Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mr. W. H. Thoug, Kingston.

MOBILE MAST FOR DIRIGIBLE

Plans Have Been Successful; Kept Strictly Confidential

Washington, D.C., November 16—Section of plans for a mobile moon rocket dirigibles to be tried out at L. M. J., home station of the Los Angeles, have become known at the Navy Department through the admission for bids for such a moon rocket. The project was disclosed here November 21.

Although plans have been kept as confidential, Rear Admiral M.

Chief of the Naval Bureau of Aeronautics, said it was part of a secret development including other mechanical improvements which will effect "a considerable reduction" in the number of men required for a ground crew. Between 300 and 500 men now are needed for that purpose.

Observers from Great Britain, Germany and Spain are understood to be deeply interested in developments in portable mast.

The new mast was equipped with a telescopic tower to

CHICAGO NOT A 'WINDY CITY' NOW

Not Meteorologically Speak ing Anyway; Winds Dying Down

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 10. — To-day's question: What place is known as the "Windy City"? Answer: Chicago. But is it?

Prof. Henry J. Cox, chief United

Chicago used to have winds that went "who-o-o-o," just like the poem says; winds that whistled and howled; winds that lifted top hats-blowing down Michigan Avenue; winds that

On such winds as these Chicago took to the nickname "Windy City."

In 1900 the velocity averaged 16.0. Five years later it was 15.4. In 1910 it dropped to 13.2, in 1922 to 11.7 and in 1925 to comparative calm of 10.6. Last year the average slipped up to 12 but it wasn't so much a difference in wind velocity, Mr. Cox said, as it was the fact that the recording instruments were transferred to the wide open spaces at the University of Chicago. Previously they had been kept atop the Federal Building in the loop, surrounded by

The suggestion was made, however, that the designation "Windy City" was not based on meteorological considerations at all. Some old timers said that the nickname became popular shortly after the fire of 1871 because those en-

1. The first group of authors (e.g., [1, 2]) has shown that the use of a single, common, non-physical, reference frame for all the particles in the system is not only unphysical, but also leads to a violation of the principle of relativity. This is because the reference frame is not the same for all the particles, and the results of the calculations are not the same for all the particles. This is a serious problem, because it means that the results of the calculations are not reliable.

DEMANDS HEAVY OVERCOAT NOW

McGie Has On Display, Newest Fabrics And Styles

About time to think of that heavy overcoat, men! Winter is just around the corner and from reports of cold weather in the Western Provinces, we think about that heavy winter overcoat, and when you're looking for the one you want, drop into Arthur McGie's tailoring ahop on Front street and have him show you his stock of the finest materials and up-to-date styles you could hope to see anywhere.

and is actually cheaper to buy a good coat, tailored to your individual measurements, for it will give you longer service, retain its smart appearance longer than a cheaper, ready-made garment, and provide an all round better service than the cheaper article, that may at first seem to be considerably cheaper.

Have McGee show you some of these samples, and outfit you with the kind of coat you'll enjoy owning during its whole long life.

CONFLICT OF LIFE HAS ITS AMENITIES

By LOUISE E. BISCH

In the jungle the animals fight for their skins from tooth and claw, and often they struggle with each other.

Even plants have a struggle. They must do the best they can in the soil they happen to be growing in. They must try to push up into the sunlight. Plants try on the shady side of the house and it will grow around to the sunny side.

And in a similar way that the animals and plants struggle we humans also have to struggle. We have to be patient to wait for our turn to win out to that conflict. Now we must win. Now we lose.

But we have to make the best of what we can. We must go on hopefully, not giving in our final and ultimate triumph.

In the lower animals and in plants the conflict of life is more obvious. Animals and plants die every day. Unable to survive the struggle. They are not able to protect themselves by mutual self-protection. They live by the means "Everybody out for himself."

Now, then, we often hear it said that human life is also like that. It is a series of greed and greed. It is a series of greed and greed. It is pointed out how cruel people can be to each other.

But instances where business men are not publicly conducted.

CHAPTER 64
THE LONG-DESIRED GIFT

Tony stood perfectly motionless, struck speechless, with Klorox clinging to his hands. Her lovely eyes shone as her words were tremendous, demanding kisses.

Her words re-echoed in the silence of the room: "I want to be yours—just like you."

Tony had the feeling, despite the sense of stupefaction that held him, that he had been in a dream. He was awoken in a moment to reality.

But he didn't, and Klorox came closer to him, her expression curiously alert and expectant. He became panic-stricken. What if Mildred or a servant came in? He released his hands and stepped back.

"What is this, Klorox?" he bawled out. "Rehearsing a role for an opera?"

"Tony!" The reproach in her eyes was appalling.

"I—I'm afraid I'm all up in the air," he said lamely. "What's all about now?"

She surveyed her beautiful shoulders petulantly and trailed her gleaming draperies over to the fire. Her eyes were on the flames.

"You little kids are always making things up."

"Don't Heaven's sake," snapped Elmo, "forget to say au revoir, history. Millicent isn't the same girl now—surely you've noticed it."

"Yes," he said slowly. "I've noticed it." Then alarm struck him. He motioned to the waiter. "What do you mean by saying you don't know where she is? Did she go away without saying where she was going? Or did you wonder whether she'd be home for dinner?"

Elmo smiled, as if he was about to tell him something so funny it would make him laugh. "She went out, not saying where she was going, the night she sent you that wire to come home."

The stricken expression on his face suggested him.

"Funny, forget Millicent! She's plenty all right. We'd have heard something, if she wasn't. We must think of ourselves. Don't you remember what I told you the first time I came into the room? It's that I'm sure we can be married, at last, after all these wretched years. Millicent said she would do anything you wished."

He stared at her.

"What did you tell Millicent to make

Some Helpful Hint: For Busy Housewife

"Yes. Something has happened,"

"Where is she?" Tony demanded, starting for the door.

"I haven't the least idea in the world," answered Elinor calmly.

He halted, as if she had struck him.

"What's this you're telling me?"

Elinor said impatiently: "I tell you I don't know where she is. What does it matter? She's perfectly able to take care of herself."

Tony found himself saying: "You are a little cruel."

membered hearing her speak. "It has to be You and I were meant for each other. But you knew I'm more certain than I, else you wouldn't have loved me all these years. I only just found out, in Paris, less than a month ago, that I love you, that I'd been blind when I sent you to Millicent, that I need you now to make my life complete."

"I had been to the Opera for an audition before the world's greatest tenor, Pavarotti." She mentioned the name over her gaze on the flames. "He told me that I would never be a prima donna, because I didn't know what human emotion was. He said I had never loved or hated, suffered or sacrificed. When I heard him say that, I felt as though my whole life were a failure. All I'd worked for was slipping away from me. And then something else

Her brows drew together in a slight frown. She had rather expected an emotional outburst at her confession and surrender.

She went back to the fire and seated herself in a low chair. With her slender body silhouetted against the firelight the flames playing on her hair, she was a lovely sight. Suddenly she began to speak.

"The revelation came in a flash, Tony. One minute I was heart whole and fancy free; the next, I knew that I had always loved you, even as you loved me. I knew that my heart had been yours—always. There has never

PRIME MINISTER TO BE PRESENT

Deseronto High School
Commencement Held
December 16th

Mr. C. Stewart Ferguson, Premier of Ontario, has accepted an invitation to be present at the commencement exercises of the Deseronto High School which will be held December 23rd. He will present the diplomas and address the students.

The exercises will take place in Hasting's Theatre and arrangements have been made to entertain the Prime Minister and his party. Efforts are being made to make this year's best commencement exercises, ever held in this wonderful theatre. A three-act play will be presented and both graduates and members of the present student body will take part. Those are lending their support towards the success of the play and drama are training the students. However, it is the school who will give the scholarship play which will be followed by the Premier's speech.

Miss McKeown who was instrumental in the success of the play last year is again in charge and is calling the students in their respective parts. The school has built up a reputation for itself in the production of amateur dramas and the next one promises to be an effort to beat the record. The theatre was packed to the doors for the play last year and a number of tickets have already been disposed of for the entertainment this year.

On Monday evening, Nov. 20, about thirty friends and neighbors met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anne Wasmann and family and presented them with a dozen silver teapots, forks and spoons. Following is the address:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Anne Wasmann and Family:
On behalf of your neighbors and friends, I am presenting to you a silver teapot, forks and spoons. We have gathered here tonight to express our regards to you and to wish you and your family every happiness and success in the future. Your Christian example and kind and cheerful spirit always ready to help and willing to lend a helping hand when called upon will not soon be forgotten. We hope that you and your family will have happiness and success in the future. Your Christian example and kind and cheerful spirit always ready to help and willing to lend a helping hand when called upon will not soon be forgotten. HOW CELEBRATE NEW YEAR'S EVE?

Coming on Saturday Seems To Make Adequate
Party Difficult

The question of the best time to celebrate New Year's Eve has been a long one, and it is a question that has been asked in many a household. The answer is, of course, that the best time is the one that is most convenient for the majority of the people. But there is one other factor that must be considered, and that is the weather. If the weather is good, then the best time is the one that is most convenient for the majority of the people. But if the weather is bad, then the best time is the one that is most convenient for the majority of the people.

to exclude the City of Montreal from such a list. The valley in which it is located is in favour of Taylor's opinion as the most desirable of the entire valley of the St. Lawrence. The city of Montreal is beautiful, and its character is such as to make it one of the most desirable cities that the average tourist could ever visit.

However the claim of Quebec to the rank among the World's most beautiful cities is not disputed.

OTHER MEN'S THOUGHTS

In Paris a bridegroom applied for divorce the same day that he was married. Hollywood is still stunned.

London Opinion.

The fact that two former office boys are now the responsible heads of the recently consummated merger of Canadian stevedores' concern is proof of the old-fashioned claim that there are abundant opportunities in Canadian business for the man who starts at the bottom of the ladder. The office boy today may be and was very often the president of to-morrow—Brookville Recorder and Times.

John McLean.

The day is past and the toilers cease:

The hand grows dim the shadows grow.

And hearts are glad, for the dark brings peace.

At the close of day.

Each weary toiler, with lingering pace

As he homeward turns, with the long day

Looks out to the west, with the light on his face.

Or the setting sun.

Yet none are not with their slumbers

The promise of rest in the fading light.

But the clouds soon dark in the angry skies

At the fall of night.

And some see only a golden ray

Where the clouds their wreckage arm

Stretch wide

To the sailing masts, as they homeward fly

At the eventide.

It speaks of peace that comes after

And of the red fire sends to the hearts of the

Of the calm that follows the storm's

Only eventide.

GOOD LOSERS

It is said that an Indian never cracks a smile at things which cause

"failures" but when misfortune befalls he laughs. The Indian's way of looking at things may not be the best but in referring to be convinced by misfortune he sets a com-ion as the most desirable of the entire valley of the St. Lawrence. The city of Montreal is beautiful, and its character is such as to make it one of the most desirable cities that the average tourist could ever visit.

However the claim of Quebec to the rank among the World's most beautiful cities is not disputed.

The fact that two former office boys are now the responsible heads of the recently consummated merger of Canadian stevedores' concern is proof of the old-fashioned claim that there are abundant opportunities in Canadian business for the man who starts at the bottom of the ladder. The office boy today may be and was very often the president of to-morrow—Brookville Recorder and Times.

The day is past and the toilers cease:

The hand grows dim the shadows grow.

And hearts are glad, for the dark brings peace.

At the close of day.

Each weary toiler, with lingering pace

As he homeward turns, with the long day

Looks out to the west, with the light on his face.

Or the setting sun.

Yet none are not with their slumbers

The promise of rest in the fading light.

But the clouds soon dark in the angry skies

At the fall of night.

And some see only a golden ray

Where the clouds their wreckage arm

Stretch wide

To the sailing masts, as they homeward fly

At the eventide.

It speaks of peace that comes after

And of the red fire sends to the hearts of the

Of the calm that follows the storm's

Only eventide.

MONTREAL-CHICAGO FLYER CRASHED INTO FREIGHT KILLING SIX AND SERIOUSLY INJURING NINETEEN; SCORES SUFFER MINOR HURTS; MAY BE MORE DEAD

Full Toll of Disaster Unknown Until Check-Up Is Made Gar Full of Immigrants Completely Demolished

—Freight Train Over-Ran Switch Onto Siding—
Passenger Train Travelling Sixty Miles An Hour
When Crash Occurred—Wreckage Broke Into Pieces—

Wreck In History of Division.

With a crashing, rending roar a flying C. P. R. passenger train from Montreal to Chicago crashed a freight train engine with five cars attached at Dockrill, a little flag station thirty miles east of Belleville, shattering the peace of a quiet Sunday afternoon and changing it to a scene of death and error, as the giant engines met they leaped clear of the track,

Quickly the farmers from the surrounding country gathered to do what they could with the help of uninjured passengers and the unfortunate victims. Word of the disaster was flashed

It was a terrible and pitiful sight that followed the crash. The front of the heavy passenger train was a car of emigrants bound for their new homes in Western Canada and loaded with the full weight of the crash crumpled like a per house. Frenzied with fear, those who escaped death ran round looking for friends and relatives. One went completely insane. Another stricken man wandered aimlessly up and down telling all who would listen to him that six of his family were left in the burning wreckage and begging for aid to find them out.

Far into the night and the early hours of this morning the lurid flames of the burning coaches and a black pall of smoke

Overran the Switch

It is hoped to determine at the inquest this afternoon the exact cause of the wreck. It is apparent that the freight train under orders to take to the siding at Dockrill overran the switch. Approaching the switch there is a steep grade and as the engine neared the switch, the weight forced the engine nose down.

the point at which it was designed to stop in order to enter the passing tracks and the weight of the train made it impossible for the locomotive to back up the grade. Engineer Bradford realizing that he had only a few minutes to spare ordered the brakeman to cut off about five of the cars, which he endeavored to take up to the other end of the passing track in order to back them down the switch, re-couple them to the main train and so draw the whole line of cars to safety.

There was not time. Before the freight engine even er was upon them. Gallantly he stuck to his throttle and now lies in the hospital with both legs broken and terribly injured. Burnette, the engineer on the flyer, who was killed, was the man in charge of, and driving the identical engine which wrecked a gasoline truck at the Belleville Cemetery crossing about fourteen months ago when he was badly injured.

EXPORTING BRAINS

The need for higher salaries for scientists employed by the various government and educational institutions of Canada has been pointed out by Professor J. C. McEwen, University of Toronto, and Hon. Charles Stewart.

It is not an altogether popular subject to the treatment of our scientists, but the fact of the matter is that the salaries of the men in the long run it would be difficult to estimate. It is not a matter of the government's pocket, but of the government's credit. The government's credit is a good man's name commercial institution, coming along with an offer of the best of the best and takes him away. Mr. Stewart might have added that our commercial institutions generally had the best of the best in the United States.

A few months ago the government of which Mr. Stewart is a member sought to check the credit of the United States by the Dominion civil service, by a proposed revision of salaries to which was attached a salary scale ranging from $1 to $15 monthly. Whether this minimum proposal was adopted is not known, but in any case it would be hardly likely to be adopted if the purpose failed. It was too much like trying to drive a railroad spike with a rock hammer.

Science and technical men in public employ in Canada are caught in a sort of limbo. If they wish to leave they are forced to seek other employment. Dr. H. M. May more times ago gave some convincing figures in this line, showing the number of Canadian university men who had been unable to find openings in this country, compared with their families. In ten years, he said, the University of British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Alberta, Quebec and Dalhousie alone had contributed 1,100 trained men to the United States.

It cannot be contended that Canada does not present an opportunity for putting all this trained scientific brain power to work in her own interests. Research is the keynote of modern life and progress. Yet with all this untrained natural resources Canada is short-sightedly preserving her scientific men by driving away her own scientists. They find almost everywhere they are denied an exit.

DRAINAGE DECISION

The decision of Judge Higgins in the Chicago water diversion case should clarify the problem as to the Canada is concerned. The Canadian government can now deal with Washington direct instead of having to report to the State of Illinois and the other states benefiting by the wrongful diversion of waters from the Great Lakes and around the City of Chicago, Canada to international agreement, it is diverting the flow into the Great Lakes into the Mississippi River a volume of water about equal to the normal flow over the Chaudiere Falls of the Ottawa River, thus leaving but only the level of the St. Lawrence River, upon which Canada has expended millions of dollars for the improvement of navigation. It is estimated that the diversion of water from Lake Michigan through the Chicago drainage canal has injured by six times the level of the international at various, and constitutes a grave danger to shipping. Canada's protest to Washington is being strenuously resisted by the protest of the State of New York, Michigan, Minnesota, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and the other states that constitute the Great Lakes River Association. Opposing this joint claim will be the City of Chicago, the State of Illinois and possibly the State of Missouri, Tennessee and Kentucky. The river cities of the last states have welcomed the increased flow through the Des Moines River and to the water diversion as a material aid to their own inland navigation. The United States long ago agreed that water must not be diverted from its natural channel to the injury of other country. The International Joint Commission was created to deal with such problems affecting the Great Lakes. In view of the highest decision, the government at Washington may now be disposed to concur in the proposal made in the Dominion parliament last year that the Chicago water diversion question be referred to this commission of settlement.

OTHER MEN'S THOUGHTS
POPULAR BELIEF
It is generally believed that no negro enters a party, or goes on the street, without carrying a razor as a defensive weapon. Policemen say they very rarely find a negro carrying a razor. It is the poorest of defenses. A dagger is much better, or a pistol better still. No man could put up a fairly good fight with a razor, as it has no handle in any place or thrust—E. W. Wilson's Monthly.

"Paralyze" Means "Innervate"

Monday Health Talk By Wm. P. Redick D.C.

One Dictionary definition of the word "paralyze" is—"to unnerve." This, though meant in another way, gives recognition to the basic truth in physical paralysis. Consider that the limb is sound; bone and flesh, muscles, nerves and blood-vessels are intact, you will not function. Why? Because there is a gap in nerve communication. The commands of the brain do not reach the muscles of the limb. There is pressure upon a nerve that may frequently be removed by Chiropractic adjustments.

NERVE COMMUNICATION RESTORED

Three years ago I suffered a paralytic stroke. The best medical aid was summoned, but for nearly three months I had to be lifted in and out of bed. I was not able to move my limbs. Then I began taking adjustments and soon improvement. After fifty-one sessions I was able to be about and could do my light work. Today I am well and very thankful to Chiropractic.

The NEW CAR

ALL THAT engineers have learned, all that millions of owners have experienced in nearly a quarter of a century, have made possible this car which is today as far ahead of its time as was the famous Model T in 1908.

Sixteen million automobiles, serving their owners in jungle and desert, on mountain and plain, on boulevard and highway, were the test cars that have made this new automobile possible.

Its advent marks a new epoch in automotive engineering in point of inbuilt quality—niceties of mechanical design, lavish use of the finer metals, precision in delicate machining processes.

Nowhere in its construction has there been slighting of either major essentials or minor details. From its outermost hub-cap to its innermost bearing, the new Ford car epitomizes engineering skill to a degree unexcelled in the annals of motor car manufacture.

This entirely new car surpasses the accepted standards of light car accomplishment; sweeps aside all boundaries of price class; establishes a new standard of acceleration, speed, power and smoothness that heretofore has marked only expensive cars as fine cars.

Yet Ford precision in large scale production, unparalleled in the history of automotive manufacture, places this car within the reach of every purse.

An advance showing of the New Ford Car will be made Friday, December 2nd, in the following cities:

HALIFAX, PETERBORO, WINNIPEG, SAINT JOHN, TORONTO, REGINA, QUEBEC
HAMILTON, SASKATOON, SHERBROOKE, BRANTFORD, MOOSEJAW, MONTREAL
LONDON, CALGARY, OTTAWA, WINDSOR, EDMONTON, KITCHENER, FORT
WILLIAM, VANCOUVER, VICTORIA

As rapidly as increasing production permits, these public showings will be extended until all of the 736 Ford dealer points have been covered.

If you live in one of the cities listed above, visit the exhibit of this New Car. At other points, see your local dealer next Friday. He will give you complete specifications, prices and an excellent conception of its unusual features.

MANUFACTURERS TO MEET IN TORONTO

on Nov. 21—Woolen and hat goods manufacturers from all the eastern provinces of Canada, (together with representatives of wool growers) and firms selling wool suit supplies, will meet in Toronto on Wednesday Nov. 29 for the Ninth Annual Wool in the Canadian Wool and Hat Goods Manufacturers Association.

Representatives of this industry are before the Advisory Board on Tariff and Taxation last week asking, for adjustments in the Woolen Tariff.

Schellens and a larger attendance than ever before is expected at this Annual Meeting. The address of the President, J. A. Burns, of Don Mills, Ont., is expected to be particularly interest-

The principal speaker at the annual meeting will be the Hon. J. S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario.
Mr. Martin will speak on sheep and wool manufacturing, and the value of these complementary agriculthe rural towns of this country. D.

C. Dick, Vice-President of the Association, will be back from England where he addressed the Bradford and Headfield Chamber of Commerce, and he is expected to speak on proble points of this industry. Invitations to attend have been sent to all woolen and hosiery mills in Canada within
